

SF Tech

End User Licence Agreement

This is a legal agreement between users of our services (“you”, “your”) and SF Tech. This agreement defines acceptable and prohibited uses of SF Tech Marketplace (“our/the service”). In this document, “we”, “our” and “us” refers to SF Tech and all third party services we utilise.

Acceptance

By signing up for an account for our service, you are automatically agreeing to everything stated within this document. This digital contract lasts for as long as you have an account with us.

Changes to this document

Changes can be made to this document at any time, without prior notice. All new revisions of this document will automatically be accepted by all users upon publishing.

Right of Removal

While using our service, you have the right to request removal of your account. This must be done by sending an email to connectwithsftech@gmail.com. You should send the request with the email used to sign up for the account. Should this no longer be available, we may require you to verify through a different method.

Account Expiry

We reserve the right to automatically delete your account, without prior notice, for any of the following reasons:

- You have not completed all verifications after 24 hours.
- You have not logged into your account for over 6 months.
- Your account has bypassed request rate limits.

Account Responsibility

You are responsible for all actions made on your account. It is your responsibility to ensure that you:

- Make a secure password.
- Conceal your password.
- Secure your email client.
- Physically secure your system.

Refunds

We operate under a strict no refunds policy. Refunds will not be given to any user, for any reason.

Prohibited Activities

You are prohibited from violating the security of our service. This includes (but is not limited to):

- Flooding/spamming our API.
- Tampering with the website or the servers which host it.
- Performing security scans of the website or any network or server which the website is connected to.
- Attempting to reverse engineer, decompile, disassemble, pirate, modify, or breach the functionality of any service provided by SF Tech.
- Attempting to gain unauthorised access to any internal systems, or any other user's account.
- Sending rouge/malicious information to our servers.

If you perform or help another person perform any prohibited activities, we reserve the right to take any action we deem appropriate. This includes (but is not limited to):

- Suspending or terminating your account.
- Revoking all licences you own.
- Blacklisting your IP from accessing our server.
